Around 150 stands announced, cultural shows, concerts, Indian dance and Bollywood shows: the “Best of Bharat in Reunion” fair promises to dazzle its visitors, from October 9 to 13 at Nordev (Saint-Denis).

Furniture, decoration, fashion, jewelry, gastronomy, cultural and religious objects are among the themes developed during the show. “We are not bringing traders, we will have 100% India with interesting show prices for everyone,” says Vikash Purbhoo, the organizer of the event on behalf of Gopio (Global organization people of India origin), the association that brings together the Indian diaspora all over the world.

The president of Gopio in Delhi, Dhiraj Ahuja, was present this Friday, July 26, at the press conference to present the event, alongside the Consul of India in Reunion, Bhupendra Singh. “France and India have had a strategic partnership since 1988, we are partners in almost all economic sectors, and of course in defense. The event that we are going to organize in October will give the opportunity to Reunion companies to meet Indian producers. And people who have never been to India will have a taste of what India is,” assured Bhupendra Singh, explaining that meetings between Reunion and Indian entrepreneurs will be offered.

According to Vikash Purbhoo, the ‘Best of India’ show will be an opportunity to revive the quality grassroots events that were organised in the past in the island, with the organiser ensuring that special attention will be paid to the exhibitors.

“For Gopio, it is about promoting Indian culture and promoting the economy of India. We are starting with Reunion Island. because it is a market that Indians know. with a real demand.
